It's My Party and I'll Rant If I Want To

I'm sitting here and frothing through my beard. OUTRAGED, that is what I am. The election was controlled by the drive by media and independent THINKING people -- a product of our left orientated educational system.

I can't accept that right wing extremism isn't embraced and I'm calling for a BOYCOTT of newspapers, education, and thinking in general. There is no gray -- ONLY black and white! It is a day to be angry and brood, just like I do normally.
